The full paper commences overleaf.

Appendix I: Safe365 Progress Report

Health and safety self-assessment maturity as represented by the Safe365 starburst in Figure 1 show an improvement across most Health and Safety areas and an aggregated rating change of +8% between October 2023 and October 2024. The 2024 Benchmark for NZ Tertiary Sector – 56%.

These ratings improvements reflect the various changes that have been made at within faculties and service units that are aggregated into the overall UC organisational rating. UCs target is to reach 65% by 2026. In October of 2023 UC was 3 points below the New Zealand tertiary sector average and 12 points above the Australian tertiary sector average. Currently, UC is 4 points above the New Zealand tertiary sector average and 15 points above the Australian tertiary sector average. The NZ tertiary sector is made up of roughly 100 organisations, and the Australian sector 40

Positive change is being reflected in all business units, with Faculties of Science, Education and Health passing the 65% organisational goal.

Key improvement that are reflected in the starburst:

- Health and safety inductions completed for Council and SLT
- Response from all staff to Health and safety DevelopMe module (54%)
- Response from line managers with health and safety induction (61%)
- Resource challenges with verification and audit actions (internal / external auditing)
- Department Safety Officer checklist response, a verification activity (96%)

Improvements in modules 2 (management knowledge), 5 (verification and audit activities) and 7 (health and safety data collection) are priorities going forward.

Appendix II: Health and Safety Performance Summary

This report underscores UC's commitment to proactively identifying and mitigating potential hazards to safeguard the well-being of staff, students, and visitors. Below is a high-level summary of key statistics from Appendix II (a-b). Please note that the student self-report dashboard is unavailable this month due to PowerBI data display issues; however, student reports are included in other dashboard metrics.

- Unsafe Conditions: 35
- Safe Practice: 18
- Improvement Suggestions: 5
- Student Safety Observation Reports: 4

The Health and Safety Office is collaborating with management to address and mitigate identified risks and concerns.

T5 Risk Incidents Breakdown

This section provides an overview of critical T5 health and safety risks, summarizing the incidents, near misses, and safety observations recorded from August to October.

1. Hazardous Substances

- Reports Logged: 19 (8 incidents, 10 safety observations, 1 near miss)
- Examples:
 - Gas Regulator Issue: Metal filings were found inside multiple gas regulators in CAPE, leading to the removal of six units from service. All users were advised to inspect similar models, and no additional faulty regulators were reported.
 - Chemical Spills: Four chemical spill incidents were reported, all of which were contained safely with no harm to individuals. Spill response plans were promptly enacted.

2. Well-being Issues

- Reports Logged: 17 (11 incidents, 6 safety observations)
- Examples:
 - Ergonomic Discomfort: Cases of back and hip pain, largely attributed to poor workstation setup and pre-existing conditions, were reported, leading to ergonomic assessments and workspace adjustments.
 - Health Concerns: Fainting incidents among students and staff were recorded, with appropriate follow-up actions taken.

3. Fieldwork and Isolated Work

- Reports Logged: 6 (5 incidents, 1 near miss)
- Examples:
 - Student Injury: A geology student fractured an ankle after slipping on a boulder during a field trip to Westport. Field first aid was administered, and the injury was confirmed and treated by Westport Medical Centre the next day.

4. Plant and Machinery

- Reports Logged: 26 (20 incidents, 6 safety observations)
- Examples:
 - Trench Safety Violation: During a site visit at Dovedale, UC's External PM and a consultant observed a contract worker operating in a trench within proximity to active machinery. Work ceased immediately, and all trench safety protocols were reinforced in a toolbox meeting the following day. An independent audit and corrective actions were implemented, including equipping personnel with two-way radios to improve communication.
 - Bar Pullout Test Incident: A metal bar fractured during a concrete pullout test and was propelled approximately 1.5–2 meters into the air. A safety review determined that testing should cease at the bar's yield point, with appropriate restraints in place.

5. Vehicles and Travel

- Reports Logged: 14 (5 incidents, 8 safety observations, 1 near miss)
- Examples:
 - Overspeed Incidents: Five incidents involving drivers of UC fleet vehicles were logged, with notifications sent to the responsible drivers and their managers/academic supervisors. This new process, established by the Health and Safety Office as part of the T5 risk verification protocol, requires all E-Roads overspeed alerts exceeding speed limits by 20 km to be documented in Assura, enhancing the ability to monitor and analyse driving practices. Further review is needed to determine UC's response to repeated speeding incidents.

Key Trends

The data from August to October highlights a range of ongoing issues:

- Equipment Safety: Incidents involved equipment or infrastructure malfunctions, such as fire exit doors failing during evacuation drills, insecure stairwells, and electrical malfunctions. A renewed focus on ensuring regular equipment checks and maintenance will mitigate the risk of these near misses from escalating.

- Contractor Oversight on Capital Projects: Some contractor reports highlight the need for UC to undertake ongoing, close monitoring of health and safety risk management and contractor performance on capital works projects. This is a focus for the Capital Works team.
- Environmental and Ergonomic Hazards: Issues like ventilation, dust, and office ergonomics continue to affect well-being. However, there has been a notable downwards trend (60-70% decrease) in pain and discomfort reports and requests for ergonomic assessments over the past six months. This is possibly due to the enhancements made to the ergonomic assessment referral process and self-management resources, and/or ongoing improvements in workspace design and equipment across campus.

Appendix IV: Health and Safety Action Plan Progress Report

The Health and Safety Action Plan (Plan) 2021-2024 aligns with Tangata Tū, Tangata Ora 2020-2030 strategic objective: People- Nurturing Staff, Thriving Students, and the Mahere Oranga Well-being Implementation Plan 2020-2024. The three pou | strategic pillars, Inspiring Leadership, Thriving Communities, and Effective Systems, are the focus of the Plan to move beyond reactive to strategy-led and engaging and empowering our people to work together to make good decisions about health, safety, and well-being for themselves and others. In setting the direction of travel, the Plan builds on UC's collective kaupapa by incorporating operating principles that foster our organisational values of whanaungatanga, tiakitanga, manaakitanga, and culture of kotahitanga, to support an environment that is welcoming and inclusive of all our people.

Vice-Chancellor's Report to Council

November 2024

This period marks the end of the second full semester of the year, concluding with exams. The Summer 'semester' started on 11 November and runs through to 13 December 2024.

Engagement

Sir Richard Taylor, co-founder and creative director of New Zealand's legendary Wētā Workshop, presented UC's annual free public Hopkins Lecture, For the Love of Creativity, on 1 October to a capacity crowd in UCSA's Ngaio Marsh Theatre. Hosted annually since 1978 by UC's Civil and Natural Resources Engineering department, the Hopkins Lecture supports UC to promote broad social discussions within the engineering profession while enhancing public understanding of engineering issues. The visit included a tour of UC's Kōawa Creative Technologies Precinct.

A UC team led by Product Design lecturer Oana Jones worked on projection mapping animation to bring the façade of the Arts Centre to life as part of the 2024 Illuminate Festival at the Christchurch Botanic Gardens. The festival attracted thousands of visitors over three weekends during 5-22 September.

We received several notable bequests in September, including a $1.1 million bequest for the School of Physical and Chemical Sciences from Dr Alan Happer who dedicated much of his career to UC. We shared the story during NZ Wills Month in September with media and on our channels to showcase the trust and support of alumni and former staff.

On 19 September UC announced the establishment of the John Rutherford Scholarship, made possible by the continuing generosity of UC graduate and donor John Rutherford. Expected to be available at the commencement of the 2025 Academic year, the gift of USD 250 000 (approximately NZD 402 500) to the University of Canterbury Foundation in America will support second-year undergraduate students who face financial hardship and have no other source of scholarship support.

On 24 October UC announced a new scholarship in honour of Dame Jacinda Ardern, who is quoted in the release. Through a USD 250 000 grant from the California-based Skoll Foundation the Ōtautahi Aroha wa Salam: March 15 Scholarship has been set up to provide financial assistance to survivors of the 2019 Christchurch mosque attacks, along with family members and family members of victims.

We hosted a Donor Appreciation Celebration on 7 November to acknowledge and thank those donors, including current and former staff, alumni, and many generous local business partners, who contributed to support student success, access to education, and research at UC in 2024.

Education – Accessible, Flexible Future Focussed

November 2024 saw 38 000 individual exam sittings. That comprised 420 exams of which the majority (278) were paper-based and on campus. There is a growing number of online exams (85); half of which were delivered on campus and half of which could be completed anywhere. In addition, there were 49 ‘non-invigilated’ assessments due during the exam period. The gradual growth in alternative types of assessment reflects the move toward more flexible options for students where it is practicable.

UC has secured TEC funding for $4.97 million over two years to support the ongoing student success programme. The funding is for the He Kokonga Whare e Kitea consortium project between UC and VUW, which will accelerate learner success by using a data coaching programme to impact learners at scale. In addition, a further $600 000 philanthropic funding has been secured for Te Kakau a Māui 2.0 programme, spread over the next four years.

On 14 October the Institute of Data announced its partnership with Tuihono UC | UC Online to offer three part-time courses focused on bridging the technology skills gap in New Zealand. Commencing 15 October, the new courses in Data Science and AI, Cyber Security, and Software Engineering will equip mid-career professionals with industry-relevant skills and provide ongoing career support for job placement.

The AI Learning and Teaching working group is presenting workshops for all staff in November. Presented by Associate Professor David Dempsey, the courses will range from the basics to more advanced use of AI. UC’s leadership in AI is also evident in our outreach to communities. Associate Professor Kathryn MacCallum presented her Scaffolded AI Literacy (SAIL) Framework for Education at the Digital Technologies Teachers Aotearoa (DTTA) Ara Ako AI Summit in Auckland.

Research – Impact on a Changing World

Two UC researchers were awarded medals by the Royal Society of New Zealand Te Apārangi at a ceremony on 14 November. Distinguished Professor Charles Semple is the winner of the 2024 Hector Medal for undertaking work of great scientific or technological merit. Professor Natalia Chaban is the winner of the 2024 Mason Durie Medal, as the nation’s pre-eminent social scientist. It is intended to recognise an outstanding contribution to the social sciences that while originating in a New Zealand environment, has had an international impact.

Two members of the UC community were winners at this year’s Kiwinet Research Commercialisation Awards held in Wellington in October. Emma Arvidson won the Momentum Student Entrepreneur Award for her startup venture Teiny which is producing high protein oat milk powder. Distinguished Professor Geoff Chase won the BNZ Researcher Entrepreneur Award for his engineering work to improve medicine and a more resilient New Zealand in the area of earthquake engineering.

Professor Gail Gillon, Director of the Child Well-Being Research Institute, has been appointed as the Education Commissioner on the Board of the New Zealand National Commission by the Minister of Education, Erica Stanford. The New Zealand National Commission connects Aotearoa New Zealand to the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO).

Executive Dean of Education, Professor Joce Nuttall delivered two prestigious keynote addresses, including at the New Zealand Educational Administration and Leadership Society on the need for leaders to mobilise the expertise of their teams in implementing change and maintain and orienting narrative of the change process. She also presented at the Philosophy of Education Society of Australasia Symposium offering her analysis of six persistent problems facing ITE and the potential solutions.

Professor Cheryl Brown (Education) was appointed as one of the Chairs of the Commonwealth of Learning and will focus on digital equity in Pacific nations. Her UNESCO report on equity and inclusion in Pacific Education was released at the Commonwealth Heads of Government Meeting (CHOGM) as a background paper for the Global Education Monitoring Report 2024.

An article co-authored by Sarah Wright (UC Business School) has just been published in the Harvard Business Review. The article We're Still Lonely at Work was also featured on the front cover of this prestigious magazine.

UC was successful with ten Ministry of Business, Innovation and Employment (MBIE) Smart Ideas and Research Programmes either as the lead organisation or as subcontractors. The total value awarded to UC in the 2024 round is $17.4 million. One notable project led by Associate Professor David Dempsey aims to remove megatonnes of carbon from the atmosphere each year, and has received $10 million over five years.

In this year's Marsden awards UC researchers received three Fast Start awards for early career researchers and seven standard awards worth a total value of $7.3 million across both types of grants. Success was spread across the faculties of Arts, Engineering and Science.

On 14 November, UC along with visitors from MBIE and Technical University of Munich, celebrated the opening and recommissioning of the Canterbury-2 ('C-II') Large Ring Laser Gyroscope. The C-II ring laser is a globally unique device, originally installed underground in the Cashmere caverns in Christchurch. Following the Christchurch earthquakes in 2010/2011, the laser facility was closed. C-II is now housed in a state-of-the-art purpose-built laboratory at the University of Canterbury.

UC has fared well in the 2024 Shanghai Global Ranking of Academic Subjects (GRAS) results. Eight subjects have moved up: Hospitality & Tourism Management, Law, Geography, Education, Earth Sciences, Business Administration, Agricultural Sciences and Biological Sciences. Hospitality and Tourism Management is now ranked 12th in the world and first in New Zealand, with publication and citation metrics making a major contribution to this result.

People – Nurturing Staff, Thriving Students

UC has for the second year running won the University Tertiary Sport New Zealand (UTSNZ) Championship Series. We therefore maintain our place as New Zealand's top sporting tertiary institution and retain the 101-year-old UTSNZ Shield. The series runs throughout the year at various venues and involves eight sports.

In early September UC hosted the Supporting Cross-Border Students Symposium programme in collaboration with ISANA NZ, the International Education Association of New Zealand. The symposium brought together educators and researchers from the tertiary sector across New Zealand and Australia, offering a platform to share best practices and strategies for enhancing the support of international students.

A number of activities were run during Mental Health Awareness Week, 23-29 September. These included a week of free open access to the Recreation Centre, a 5 Ways to Fitness Challenge run by the Recreation Centre, a community lunch in Rehua, a Take a Mate to a Cafe discount scheme, and Run72 the annual Lads Without Labels three day running relay around campus.

The Student Wellbeing team ran another Study Week event to finish off the year and give students a chance to unwind and recharge prior to exams. Offerings across the week involved a variety of activities, snacks, and opportunities to engage with the Wellbeing Navigators. The sessions were very well attended with some days seeing almost 1000 attendees.

On Monday 4 November UC was advised by UniLodge, the operator of University Halls and Ilam Apartments, that a number of students had become ill overnight. UC's Accommodation Services and Student Wellbeing teams worked with UniLodge to support students' wellbeing, and all had recovered within about 24 hours. We await the results of the Ministry of Primary Industries' Food Safety Unit sample testing and their report, but their working hypothesis is that the cause of the illness was food poisoning, probably from a Sunday evening chicken dinner. Their preliminary view is accepted by all parties, including the UCSA, which is UniLodge's catering contractor.

People and Culture have launched a tailored process to guide onboarding and induction for new Academic Staff. The goals of this process, which starts when the new hire signs their offer and ends on their two-year anniversary, are to build a sense of belonging, build connections to enable new staff to be contributing colleagues, enable new starts to settle in and get up to speed, and provide a guided experience.

Internationalisation – Locally Engaged, Globally Networked

As part of the University's ongoing efforts to increase international student numbers, we hosted 25 international recruitment agents for a UC-exclusive trip to Ōtautahi Christchurch during 23-27 September. The conference-style event highlighted the best of the University and city, allowing them to experience firsthand the reasons why UC is an attractive study destination for international students, and why our city is ranked among the top 100 student cities in the world.

In September I travelled to Malaysia and Singapore along with members of the Advancement team. We met with business leaders, donors, and alumni across Kuala Lumpur, Kuching, Sibul, and Singapore. We hosted an alumni reception at the New Zealand High Commissioner's residence in Kuala Lumpur, as well as smaller receptions in Kuching and Sibul. With strong historical ties to Malaysia and Singapore dating to UC's participation in the Colombo Plan, we have a large cohort of highly engaged and very generous alumni throughout the region. While there, I progressed partnership and philanthropy discussions with several major donors and key alumni-owned or managed businesses. I also met with potential university education partners. At the reception in Sibul, I was presented with a donation of $12 000 from Dr Gregory Hii to support postgraduate scholarships.

During 12-16 October I visited Samoa along with Pro Vice-Chancellor Pacific, Distinguished Professor Steven Ratuva. We met with notable alumni and also the Prime Minister of Samoa Fiamē Naomi Mata'afa. We signed a Memorandum of Understanding with the National University of Samoa, and hosted a successful alumni event to launch Samoa's first UC Alumni chapter which was attended by prominent leaders, including the Deputy Prime Minister.

In my capacity as Chair of the Association of Commonwealth Universities, I returned to Samoa on 21 October for the Commonwealth Heads of Government Meeting (CHOGM) where I spoke at two events in the Business Forum Programme. I was able to highlight UC's research on Sustainable Cities and how we foster graduate employability. On the evening of 24 October UC was announced as a partner of HRH King Charles' new King's Commonwealth Fellowship Programme. The programme offers fellowships for mid-career professionals and students from Commonwealth Small Island Developing States (SIDS) like Samoa.

On 11 October UC Hosted the Fijian Honourable Minister for Education, Aseri Radrodoro on campus to discuss undergraduate and postgraduate research options for Fijian students at UC. The Minister also met with current UC Fijian students.

UC's Distinguished Professor Steven Ratuva presented findings from the POCCA study (Pacific Ocean Climate Crisis Assessment) at the Conference of Parties 29 (COP29) in Azerbaijan on 11 November. The three-year study was led by UC in collaboration with the University of South Pacific and is the largest study of climate adaptation in the Pacific region, involving over 100 Pacific scholars and community experts working across 16 Pacific Island Countries and Territories to examine the impact of climate change on Pacific communities.

Distinguished Professor Steven Ratuva is one of 12 eminent Pacific Island scholars elected as a Foundation Fellow to the new Pacific Academy of Sciences, which was formally announced by Samoan Prime Minister Fiamē Naomi Mata'afa during CHOGM on 23 October.

Dr Jannik Haas (Civil and Natural Resource Engineering) visited Brazil as part of a team of Early Career Researchers funded by the Latin America Centre of Asia-Pacific Excellence. He met with Professor Aldo Nelson Bora (State Secretary of Science, Technology and Higher Education of Paraná, Brazil), where the opportunity to fund PhD students to study at UC was greatly progressed. This visit built on very fruitful visit by Professor Bora and his team to UC in September.

Organisational Efficacy – of a sustainable scale by 2030

The new Contact Centre system successfully went live for our main UC Contact Centre, the Security and Health Centre and the IT contact centre. The new system replaces the end-of-life Geomant system and integrates with our CRM (D365) which will speed up access to student profile information.

The new Software Asset Management process went live on 1 of November in the UC Service Portal. It provides a central place for Digital Services to manage software, and new streamlined workflows and forms for requesting and managing software across UC. It is expected that this will relieve many of the pain points that staff associate with procuring new software and improve the administration and overall cost of software for the University.

Work to recover the roofs at Dovedale has commenced. Ōtākaro is the main re-roof project and the Jack Mann Theatre sound stages are nearly complete. Work on the asbestos strip out of Jack Mann auditorium is underway.

Environmentally Sustainable

The Solar Array located outside the Engineering and Physical Sciences Library was officially opened. It is a 2.6-kilowatt system now feeding into the grid as a research centre for the UC Engineering School. This solar array "flower" moves with the sun so it stays at peak consistent output the whole day. It was kindly donated by Shawn Huang, a founder of Golden Solar BIPV. The installation will serve as a valuable teaching resource for the Master of Engineering Studies in Renewable Energy, facilitating data collection for ongoing research.

An educational Rock Garden in the refurbished area next to the new Ground Source Heat Pump plant room has been established.

EPECentre visited the Ōnuku Marae as part of the Future Architecture of the Network MBIE-funded research programme's Vision Mātauranga workstream's efforts to look at energy use. This ongoing work is aimed at maximising the energy use and efficiency of the Marae.

The Department of Chemical and Process Engineering recently developed the Pacific H2O module, an online tool for engaging high school students in the exploration of water treatment within the Pacific Island context.

UC's Sustainability team and EnviroSoc student club hosted a special screening of international film Our Blue World: A Water Odyssey on 30 September, welcoming over 280 people from the Ōtautahi Christchurch community to explore humanity's complex, evolving relationship with water.

Memorandum/Pukapuka

To:	Ki:	University Council
From:	Nā:	Professor Cheryl de la Rey, Vice-Chancellor
Date:	Rā:	18 September 2024
Subject:	Kaupapa:	Academic Board report

Recommendations:

1. that the Council notes the attached report of the Academic Board (attachment 1).
2. that the Council approve the semester dates for 2026 (Diligent attachment 2).
3. that the Council notes the reports of Graduating Year Reviews and the introduction of new Qualifications from established programmes. Detail of these can be found in Diligent attachment 3. These reports were endorsed by the Academic Board and have been approved by CUAP.
4. that the Council receives the draft one year on progress report following the AQA academic audit visit which is due with the AQA Board in December. (Diligent attachment 4)

Executive Summary:

The Board endorsed 12 Graduating Year Reviews, the introduction of five new qualifications and the deletion of an endorsement in the Master of Civil Engineering. The Board also endorsed the academic dates for 2026 and the one year on AQA academic audit report and discussed changes to the UC Doctoral Scholarships and Faculty Board terms of reference.

TE POARI AKORANGA | ACADEMIC BOARD

REPORT TO THE COUNCIL

FROM A MEETING OF THE ACADEMIC BOARD

HELD ON FRIDAY 13 SEPTEMBER 2024

REPORT FROM THE VICE-CHANCELLOR

The Vice-Chancellor said that it had been pleasing to welcome a larger number of international students on campus than projected for Semester 2 study. She noted her appreciation of staff who had been involved in the recent successful Open Day event which had attracted a record number of registrations. She had also attended the Raising the Bar event in the city and thanked all involved for an impressive and enjoyable evening.

She said that University Advisory Group (UAG) members had visited UC on 21 August and thanked those who had met the panel. The panel felt their visit was productive and were impressed by the clear sense of identity expressed by staff interviewed. They were reserving the option of visiting again in November to explore specific themes which are likely to include governance and funding.

She had agreed with the Head of Ara that they would together meet Business Canterbury representatives to form a closer working partnership with business. She had recently attended a meeting where the Christchurch City Mayor had acknowledged the important role UC plays in building a strong local economy and the university is seen as an important stakeholder in the region.

REPORT FROM THE ACADEMIC ADMINISTRATION COMMITTEE

Professor James, Dean of Academic Governance, invited Associate Deans (Academic) or nominees to present the graduating year review reports, the proposals for new qualifications which derive from existing qualifications and the deletion of an endorsement in Renewable Energy in the Master of Civil Engineering. All were subsequently endorsed by the Board.

UC DOCTORAL SCHOLARSHIP REGULATIONS

Professor McAuliffe, Dean of Postgraduate Studies, presented the revised regulations which proposed a return to rounds and updated selection criteria.

USAGE OF SEMESTER ONE BREAK

The Deputy Vice-Chancellor (Academic) stated her intention of establishing a working group to look at a range of factors which were causing pressure points over the academic year.

KEY DATES 2026 AND PROVISIONAL DATES 2027

The key dates for 2026 and provisional dates for 2027 were endorsed.

REVIEW OF FACULTY BOARD COMPOSITION AND TERMS OF REFERENCE

Associate Professor Griffith reported back on the working group that had been tasked to review Faculty Boards' terms of reference. Following discussion, it was agreed to circulate the group's findings to Faculty Boards for comment, with the intention of revisiting the discussions at the Board in November.
